

YOUR HOME IN 2010

The designers have shown their hands at the interior shows and predictions have been made. Huddle up for insider tips on what you'll see in hip homes this decade

ROSIE WINSTON

Director, Clifton Interiors

My tip for 2010 is to invest in handmade classical pieces. A carefully chosen rug (see above) could be a clever investment if you choose your design and colours wisely. Fair trade and naturally dyed rugs will continue to spread in availability and choice. A bespoke rug may cost more, but if you have a striking piece of art or sculpture, you can bring this into the design, making the rug a true investment piece. Clifton Interiors, 168 Regent's Park Road, NW1 (020 7586 5533; www.cliftoninteriors.com)

GILLIAN ANDERSON

Trading Director, Heals

For spring 2010 our colour prediction is tomato: a palette that ranges from inviting orange to provocative coral and tangy red. Mix with walnut furniture and black and white lacquer and glass accessories for a bold contemporary look with a touch of retro. Tomato shades are great fun and can add freshness and warmth to your home with a vibrant optimism. Heal's, The Heal's Building, 196 Tottenham Court Road, W1 (www.heals.co.uk)

NAOMI DEAN

Furniture Designer, Harvey Jones

Trends in kitchen design for 2010 are reflecting a more communal way of living with deli-diner kitchens and an increase in more pronounced dining areas. Be daring with colour choices - by adding a modern coloured splashback or painting cabinetry in vibrant pastel shades, such as swimming-pool blue or bubblegum pink, you can create a fresh retro look. Harvey Jones, 53 Englands Lane, NW3 (020 7483 1944; www.harveyjones.com)

SARAH COLE

Director, Farrow & Ball

One of the key schemes for 2010 is one we've coined 'glitz and glamour'; a decadent look that celebrates excess. This scheme is all about wealth and indulgence, with rich and opulent shades like Brinjal No.222, Pitch Blue No.220 and Churlish Green No.251, alongside shimmering gold and metallics for an extravagant feel. This glamorous, glitzy look has a Middle Eastern influence, so colours include exotic shades which combine and collide beautifully. Farrow & Ball, 38 Cross Street, N1 (020 7226 2627; www.farrow-ball.com)

KELLY HOPPEN

Celebrity interior designer

2010 is going to be all about comfort and nurturing - mixing the old with the new, and vintage with modern. It's about amalgamating items that you would never have thought to do so. In fashion terms, it's like wearing a lace camisole with cowboy boots and jeans... eclectic, eclectic, eclectic! Think outside the box and use what you already have - make it work for you. Kelly Hoppen, 102A Chepstow Road, St Stephen's Yard, W2 (020 7351 1910; www.kellyhoppenretail.com)

...AND TRENDS WE'LL BE BUYING INTO

STATEMENT TABLES

Side tables are coming back chic in distinctive, angular glass and metal. Our favourite is the Minotti Divo table. £1,310, Minotti London at European Design Centre, 77 Margaret Street, W1 (020 7323 3233; www.minotti.co.uk)

QUIRKY STORAGE

Canny designers at the likes of De Padova and Ligne Roset know that in 2010, storage is F-U-N. Take your kids shopping - if they're drawn to something, the likelihood is it's bang on trend.

STRIKING CERAMICS

There are two key trends in ceramics: pretty floral and nutty brights - and nothing in between.

PLASTIC SEATING

Contemporary artist Jacqueline Terpins designs practical-yet-punch-packing occasional chairs - everything '10s plastic furniture should be.
